

Google Docs: An Invitation to Edit

Using Google Docs allows people to view and edit each other's documents in a web environment. Here is an invitation to a colleague to try out this technology.

Message from portia.elliott4@gmail.com:

Cynthia, If your schedule permits, please take a look at this document using the editing features in "Google Docs." I am hoping that the students in my methods classes will be able to use this technology when they work in their wiki groups formed during their WebQuests. Let me know what you think. Thanks. Portia
