Course Description
In a culturally and socially diverse society, discussion about issues of difference, conflict and community are needed to facilitate understanding between social/cultural groups. In this intergroup dialogue, students will actively participate in semi-structured, face-to-face meetings with students from other social identity groups. Students will learn from each other’s perspectives, read and discuss relevant reading material, and explore their own and other groups' experiences in various social and institutional contexts. Students will also explore ways of taking action to create change and bridge differences at the interpersonal and social/community levels. Students will expand on in-class learning through readings, weekly logs, an intergroup collaboration project and a final reflection paper. Finally, through this course, students will fulfill both the University’s Social and Cultural Diversity (U) and Social and Behavioral Sciences (SB) General Education requirements.

Course Objectives
This course is designed to encourage participants to develop skills for addressing and bridging differences in diverse social settings. Specifically, as a student in this course you will have the opportunity to:
  • Learn and practice intergroup dialogue skills
  • Develop an increased awareness of yourself as an individual and as a member of social groups
  • Learn more about your own and others’ cultures, histories, and experiences
  • Explore commonalities and differences across and within gender boundaries
  • Address the impact of individual, group, and institutional gender relations, within a US context
  • Identify, plan, and take actions that contribute toward the creation of inclusive and just communities through applying knowledge, awareness, and skills gained in class
  • Effectively communicate, both orally and in writing

General Course Policies
Academic Honesty Statement
Since the integrity of the academic enterprise of any institution of higher education requires honesty in scholarship and research, academic honesty is required of all students at the University of Massachusetts Amherst.

Academic dishonesty is prohibited in all programs of the University. Academic dishonesty includes but is not limited to: cheating, fabrication, plagiarism, and facilitating dishonesty. Appropriate sanctions may be imposed on any student who has committed an act of academic dishonesty. Instructors should take reasonable steps to address academic misconduct. Any person who has reason to believe that a student has committed academic dishonesty should bring such information to the attention of the appropriate course instructor as soon as possible. Instances of academic dishonesty not related to a specific course should be brought to the attention of the appropriate department Head or Chair.

Since students are expected to be familiar with this policy and the commonly accepted standards of academic integrity, ignorance of such standards is not normally sufficient evidence of lack of intent.

If you have a documented physical, psychological, or learning disability on file with Disability Services (DS), Learning Disabilities Support Services (LDSS), or Psychological Disabilities Services (PDS), you may be eligible for reasonable academic accommodations to help you succeed in this course. If you have a documented disability that requires an accommodation, please notify the course instructor (mkeehn@educ.umass.edu) or teaching assistant (educ202-xzuniga-2@courses.umass.edu) via email during the first week of the course (no later than Thursday, February 5th) so we can make appropriate arrangements.

Moodle

This course relies heavily on the use of Moodle. The course syllabus, course calendar, assignments and readings are all made available on Moodle. All logs, the testimonial assignment, and the final paper are to be submitted on Moodle. Please post the assignments by copying and pasting your work into the text box provided in the appropriate assignment section on your class Moodle page.

It is very important that you are able to use Moodle to submit the course assignments. If you are unsure about how to use Moodle or are encountering problems, please visit the Moodle help section on the OIT webpage: (http://www.oit.umass.edu/webct/campus-vista/students/index.html). If you are still unable to use Moodle please contact the course TA (educ202-xzuniga-2@courses.umass.edu) or the course instructor (mkeehn@educ.umass.edu) immediately.

Course Requirements & Assignments

Attendance and Participation (10 points)

Since much of the learning takes place during the weekly meetings of this dialogue class, attendance and participation are vital. It is important that you come prepared every week to comment on the readings, actively participate in discussions and activities, and share your experiences and perspectives. Active participation does not just mean talking. It means engaging thoughtfully with the course material and the other participants. If you are talkative, challenge yourself to listen more. If you are a quiet person, consider challenging yourself to speak up in small and large groups.

Please refer to the attendance policy regarding tardiness and excused and unexcused absences at the end of this section for detailed guidelines and expectations. Should an emergency arise (illness, accident, etc.) that prevents you from attending a session, it is your responsibility to contact one of the facilitators at least a few hours before class.

Readings and Assignments

Every week, you will have a selection of articles to read, and a written log to complete. For detailed descriptions of your log assignments and other short written assignments refer to Moodle in the corresponding section. You will also plan and implement a team action project as well as write a final reflection paper (guidelines for the final paper are will be on Moodle).

Due to the frequency of writing in this course, we encourage students to use The Writing Center to get help as needed. On occasion, we may require that students visit The Writing Center before handing in a written assignment. Students who are concerned about their writing are strongly encouraged to visit the Writing Center early in the semester. The Writing Center is located in the Learning Commons in DuBois Library and is open Monday through Wednesday from 10 am to 9 pm, Thursday from 10 am - 6 pm, Friday from 10 am – 2 pm, and Sunday from 2 pm – 6 pm.

Please note that you will be expected to submit most of your assignments (logs, testimonial, final paper) on Moodle and provide a hard copy in class. We will collect in class your ICP action project team proposal and progress report.

1. Reading Assignments:
   In most cases, there will be 35-40 pages of reading assigned per week. Weekly reading assignments help you prepare for the upcoming dialogue session. Reading assignments must be completed by the class session for which they were assigned. Assigned readings can be found on Moodle. Refer to the course syllabus for your weekly reading assignments.

Meaningful intergroup dialogue relies on ongoing preparation and thoughtful reflections. It is vital that you come prepared every week to comment on the readings, and share some of your reactions to them in class.

2. Writing Assignments:
All written assignments must follow the directions provided and incorporate readings. Those readings must be cited. There is also an expectation that the Final Reflection Paper includes a reference page. Please cite the readings using APA format (see APA citation style format guide attached to the syllabus and on Moodle).

Log Assignments: (50 points)
Logs are designed to help you prepare for the next class session. Most log assignments will be divided into two parts. Part I will ask you to reflect on your thoughts, feelings and experiences on the previous dialogue session in 1 or 1½ pages. Part II will ask you to address readings and carefully describe, define, and summarize key ideas or concepts or compare / analyze some of the issues raised in the readings in an additional 1 ½ to 2 pages.

The page lengths listed next to the log questions are recommendations to help you organize how to structure the length of your responses to the questions; they are not precise requirements.

All log assignments are due on Moodle by 8:00 P.M. on the Wednesday before the dialogue session. You must also bring a hard copy of your log to class. The log due before Saturday, February 14th will be due on Friday, February 13th at 8:00 P.M. Logs should be at least 3 pages in length (typed, double-spaced, 12-pt font, Times New Roman, with one-inch margins).

Each log will be evaluated and graded by your section facilitators and is worth a possible total of 5 points. A log will receive the full five points if it is on time, uses APA style format for in-text citations (see APA citation style format guide attached to the syllabus and on Moodle), adequately addresses the questions and discusses at least THREE of the assigned readings. One point will be deducted for lateness. The logs are worth 50 points total (10 graded logs at 5 points each).

Consider your first log as an opportunity to practice log writing. This log will be pass/fail and you will receive detailed feedback.

Submitting Logs on Moodle – To submit your log:
1) Click on the Log Assignment link.
2) Scroll down to the bottom of the page and click on Add Submission.
3) Scroll down to the bottom of the page and paste your log in the textbox provided and click Save Changes (Do not attach or upload the log file).

Please note that students will not receive credit for logs that are turned in more than one week late.

Testimonial Assignment (5 points)
Testimonials are a way of conveying our own stories, in our own words. You will read a number of testimonials in preparation for writing your own. On Saturday, February 14th, we all will be sharing our own “testimonials” in class. We would like you to write your story in preparation for the long day session. This assignment is due on Moodle on Friday by 8:00 P.M. See full Testimonial Assignment description on Moodle for more details about this assignment.

Final Paper (20 points)
An 8-10 page (typed, double-spaced, 12-point font, 1-inch margins) self-reflection paper is due on Tuesday, April 21st by 12:00 P.M. (noon). You will submit one copy of your paper through Moodle and two hard copies to 364 Hills South. Please attach a self-addressed and stamped envelope to your printed copy so we can mail your paper to you once the semester ends.

In your final paper you will reflect back on the semester and write about your experience of the group’s process and your role in it, what/how you learned in this course, your experiences of differences and disagreements, your experiences of similarities and how you have applied or intend to apply what you have learned. You will be encouraged to draw from your logs, testimonial, and class discussions. Detailed guidelines and grading criteria will be distributed in class and will also be available on Moodle.

3. Intergroup Collaboration Project (15 points)
The Intergroup Collaboration Project (ICP) is an opportunity for you to build and implement an action project as part of your intergroup dialogue experience. The project involves working closely with a small group of your classmates over a six-week period. We will develop the project in steps throughout the term culminating in an in-class group presentation during session 10 (April 9th).

Your project might be something like collectively writing a letter to a newspaper or public official, actively addressing a campus issue, or organizing an event for your residence hall or student organization. The ICP will be graded based on your group’s preliminary proposal (4 points, final draft due in class on March 5th), progress report (6 points, due in class on March 26th), and your in-class group presentation (5 points, due in class on April 9th). Detailed guidelines and grading criteria will be distributed in class on February 19th and will also be posted on Moodle.
Attendance Policy

This class meets on Thursdays from 4:00 - 6:30 P.M. beginning on January 29\textsuperscript{th} and ending on April 16\textsuperscript{th}. On Saturday February 14\textsuperscript{th}, the class will meet from 9:00 A.M. – 5:00 P.M. (Because of this longer Saturday session, there will be \textbf{no class on Thursday, February 12\textsuperscript{th}}). Should an emergency arise (illness, accidents, etc.) that prevents you from attending a specific session, it is your responsibility to contact one or both of the facilitators at least a few hours before class time.

1. All missed classes must be made up. Guidelines for make-up assignments will be posted on Moodle. Make up work is due within two (2) weeks of a missed class. Please submit a hard copy of your make up assignment to your section facilitators.

2. The class will begin on time and one point (1) will be deducted from your attendance and participation score for each class to which you arrive late. If you are more than 15 minutes late, three classes, it will be equated to one unexcused absence.

3. Excused absences: Three (3) points will be deducted from your attendance and participation points for each excused absence (e.g., religious observance, illness supported by medical documentation). However, if you complete your make up assignment by the due date, these three points will be added back to your grade.

4. Unexcused absences: Five (5) points will be deducted for each unexcused absence. If you complete a make-up assignment by the due date, three (3) points will be added back to your grade.

5. \textbf{PLEASE NOTE} that we have only 11 classes and the long day class counts (if missed) as TWO (2) absences (either excused or unexcused). If you have three (3) absences (excused or unexcused) you will have missed almost one third of the class and will be in danger of failing the course.

Please read the Academic Regulations 2014-2015 Booklet (available online at \url{www.umass.edu/registrar}) for information about Academic Honesty, Grading, Attendance, Examinations, and Absences due to Religious Observance. Absences due to Religious Observance do not excuse you from completing assignments.

Final Paper Due (Moodle & 2 hard copies at 364 Hills South)
Course Reading Assignments

PLEASE NOTE: Readings with OPTIONAL next to them are recommended, but not required. All other readings are required with the exception being weeks when you get choose which testimonials you would like to read. Readings and log assignments are listed on the day they are due.

Session 1 – Thursday, January 29th: Creating an Environment for Dialogue

Key Concepts: democratic education, intergroup dialogue, dialogue and debate, dialogues across differences

Assignments Due: Log 1(On Moodle & Hard Copy)

Reading Assignment:

• EDUC 202. (2002). Dialogue and debate handout [Class handout]. Department of Student Development, University of Massachusetts, Amherst, MA.

Log 1
Due Wednesday, January 28th at 8:00 P.M. on Moodle & in class on Thursday, January 29th

This log assignment asks you to reflect on some of your experiences that lead you to sign up for this dialogue course, and to consider some questions that will help you to prepare for session 1.
PART 1: Reflection on the course and readings (about 1 ½ pages)

• One of the goals of this course is communicating and building relationships across differences, which can be rewarding and challenging for everyone. Have you ever tried to be friends or team up with people from a gender, racial/ethnic, class, religious, etc. background very different from your own? What happened?
  o If you have not had such an experience, why do you think that was?
  o How can this week’s readings help you reflect on that experience?

• Based on your past experiences and the assigned readings, how would you describe dialogue? How would you describe debate? Think of a time when you have been involved in a dialogue or a debate (in either a formal or informal setting). Describe what happened. What were some things you liked about the experience? What were some things you disliked?

PART 2: Reflection on the course structure and the syllabus: (about 1 and ½ pages)

• In this group dialogue, you will have the opportunity to participate actively in a semi structured, face to face weekly dialogue sessions with students from other social identity groups. You will learn from the perspectives of others, and explore your own and others’ experiences through class dialogue, readings, and the writing of reflection logs. Based on what you know about how the class is structured, how do you feel about participating in dialogues about gender in a diverse group? What do you anticipate being challenges or areas of strength for you?

• After taking a close look at the course syllabus, what questions do you have about the class structure and/or requirements for your section facilitators, teaching assistants, and course director?

Session 2 – Thursday, February 5th: Centrality and Complexity of Identity

Key Concepts: personal and social identity, sex and gender identities, social group membership, multiple social identities, targeted groups, privileged groups, active listening and interactive communication

Assignments Due: Log 2 (On Moodle & Hard Copy)

Reading Assignment:

History, Theories, Social Context and Concepts

• Bidol, P. (1986). Interactive communication. In I. Bardwell, P. Bidol, & N. Manning (Eds.), Alternative environmental conflict management approaches: A citizen’s model (pp. 205-208). Ann Arbor, MI: University of Michigan School of Natural Resources. (4 pages)

Testimonials: Please choose 2 testimonials of your choice from the following list:

Log 2
Due Wednesday, February 4th at 8:00 P.M. on Moodle & in class on Thursday, February 5th

PART I: Reflecting on Hopes and Concerns (about 1 page):

• Consider the “Hopes and Concerns” activity we did in the first session. Think about the hopes and concerns you shared and those you heard from others, as well as any you might have chosen not to share. Based on this “data,” write about 1 page addressing the following question:
  o What do you need from yourself and the group to participate effectively in the intergroup dialogue? In other words, what will best facilitate your ability to share your thoughts and experiences and to “listen” to the thoughts of others you may find inspiring, challenging or unsettling?

PART II: Reflecting on Personal and Social Identities (about 2 pages):

• First, fill out the personal and social identity wheels distributed in class by the facilitators. (You can also download them from Moodle). You will use information from the wheels to write your log assignment.

• In the next session we are going to be thinking and talking about identities. Read Kirk & Okazawa-Rey Identities and social location, and introduce yourself by answering Kirk and Okazawa’s question, “Who am I?” using at least two aspects from your personal identity wheel and three aspects of your social identity. Be sure to focus on the social group categories that are the focus of this course –gender- and themes discussed in the readings.
  o How do you think your social group memberships have influenced how you see yourself? How do others see you and treat you? (i.e. in your family, on campus, at work, in the community)

• Pick 2 testimonials to read for this week. Describe how each author talks about their identities and how they impact their lives.
  o How are the social identities of the authors similar or different from your own?
  o What did you learn about yourself and your experiences from reading these pieces?

Session 3 – Saturday, February 14th: Exploring Differences and Commonalities

*No Class on Thursday, February 12th. Class on Saturday, February 14th from 9:00 A.M. to 5:00 P.M.

Key Concepts: cycle of socialization, gender socialization, stereotypes, internalized oppression, target and privileged identities

Reading Assignment:

History, Theories, Social Context and Concepts

Testimonials: Please watch the “Gender Socialization” video clip and choose 2 testimonial of your choice from the following list:

- Firegazer82. (2009). Gender socialization 1 [Video file]. Retrieved from http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=7t8w79Gc2RM (8:03 min.) (Required)

• Myers, L. (2013, August 18). Shrinking Women. [Video File]. Retrieved from https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=zQucWXWXp3k (3 min and 30 seconds)

Testimonial Assignment

Due Friday, February 13th at 8:00 P.M. on Moodle & in class on Saturday, February 14th.

Testimonials are a way of conveying our own stories, in our own words. You read a number of testimonials in the readings for the previous session. On Saturday February 14th, we all will be sharing our own testimonials in class. We would like you to write your story in preparation for the all day retreat session.

This assignment should be 3 pages long (typed, double-spaced, 12-point font). Your testimonial is due on Moodle by FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 13TH at 8:00 P.M. You are also expected to bring a hard copy to class on Saturday, February 14th.

Consider some of the testimonial narratives included in the readings list in preparation for session 2 and 3 as possible illustrative examples. Be sure to incorporate themes from some of the readings, especially Harro’s Cycle of Socialization and testimonials, as you address the following questions:

- Tell us about your understanding of yourself as a person of your gender. What have you experienced regarding your gender identity?
- How does this affect the person you are today? What are some feelings or emotions that come up as you think about how and what influenced your gender identity over time?
- Pick one other social identity (other than your gender identity) that is also important to the way you think about yourself. For example, it could be your race/ethnicity, class, sexual orientation, religion, socio-economic class and so on.
• What is this identity and how does that affect the person you are today? What are some feelings or emotions that come up as you think about how and what influenced understanding this identity over time?

Grading criteria: You will receive the full five points if your testimonial is turned in on time on Moodle and adequately addresses the questions above. One point will be deducted for lateness. You will not receive credit if this short assignment is submitted more than a week late. Please cite the readings you reference using APA format (see APA citation style format guide attached to the syllabus and on Moodle).

Log 3*
Due Friday, February 13th at 8:00 P.M on Moodle & in class on Saturday, February 14th.
*Please note: The Testimonial assignment is also due for Session 3. Please write the Testimonial Assignment FIRST! Please refer to the syllabus and Moodle for detailed assignment guidelines.

PART I: Reflecting on key concepts (about 2 pages):

• After you have read Harro’s, Cycle of Socialization, written your Testimonial Assignment and watched Gender Socialization 1, consider how your socialization as a member of your gender has impacted your life. Begin with your first socialization from family / those close to you, and move to more cultural and institutional examples.
  o Reflecting on the Testimonial you wrote, what have been key influences in your own socialization as a gendered being and how have you been socialized to or not to think about sexism as a system of privilege and oppression?
  o What are some additional critical incidents (i.e. experiences) or influences that have affected your story? How do these experiences impact the person you are today?
  o What are some feelings or emotions that come up as you think about how and what influenced your gender identity over time?

• Define, in your own words, what the terms difference, privilege, oppression and sexism mean to you. Draw on Johnson’s, Chapter 2 Privilege, Oppression and Difference and Griffin’s, Overview: Sexism, Heterosexism and Transgender Oppression for this portion of the log, and point out how your definitions are different from or similar to these two authors.

PART II: Reflecting on one Testimonial narrative (about 1 page):

• Choose one of the testimonials you chose to read or watch in preparation for the Saturday session and answer the following questions:
  o What do you think was the main idea the narrator was trying to convey to the reader? (State as accurately as possible the author’s purpose for writing the narrative).
  o Was the social identity experience described different from or similar to your own experience you wrote in your testimonial, and how so?
  o Were there ways you felt touched by or connected to the experiences and perspectives described by the author? How so?

A helpful guide: APA citation format

For your reflection logs, you are only required to include internal citations (you do not need to include a reference page).

INTERNAL CITATIONS:

You should include internal citations when you directly quote an author in the assigned readings, or when giving credit to an author for an idea or action in general (but you are not quoting them directly).

CITING DIRECT QUOTES:

When citing direct quotes you need three pieces of information:

1. The last name of the author
2. The date of publication
3. The page number(s) of where the quote appears in the original text

For example:

- One author stated, “The cultural images and messages that affirm the assumed superiority of Whites and the assumed inferiority of people of color – is like smog in the air” (Tatum, 2000, p. 79).
- Johnson (2006) stated that, “understanding how to change that by bringing dominant groups into the conversation and the solution is the biggest challenge we all face” (p. 79).

If the quotation comprises 40 or more words, display it in a freestanding block of text and omit the quotations marks. (…) At the end of the block quotation, cite the quoted source and the page or paragraph number in the parentheses after the final punctuation mark. (American Psychological Association, 2010, p. 174)

CITING IDEAS- GIVING CREDIT:

When citing an author after paraphrasing their ideas, you need two pieces of information:

1. The last name of the author
2. The date of publication

For example:

1. Johnson (2006) asserts that people with privilege need to start doing something about the problem of their privilege.
2. Prejudice has been compared to smog in the air (Tatum, 2000)….

For your final paper you will need to include a reference list in addition to internal citations. Below are some examples of references:

REFERENCE LIST

Book

Book chapter

(Note: location and publisher may be changed to another way to locate the source, for example if it is a web source: Retrieved from; or the DOI number also can be placed here)

Magazine Article

Author, A. (year, month). Title of the article. Name of the Magazine, [Number if apply]([Vol. If apply]). [Pages] xx-xx

Online Magazine Article
