The Weekly Quiz

On Thursday 13 March 2008, the syllabus was modified to include a weekly quiz in order to ensure that everyone is reading and understanding the Middle English.

Each quiz is identical in format. The format follows one of the first handouts from class, and asks for names of characters, genre, genre characteristics, basic plot elements, and themes. You will be asked to identify two or more of these elements. In addition, I will include a quotation from the week's reading. You will be asked to identify the speaker and/or the relevance of the quotation to the reading as a whole.

Each quiz is worth 1% of your final grade. There are 5 quizzes upcoming (no quiz during the week a paper is due). The final paper is reduced from 35% to 30%.

Finally, please remember that you may write a final paper only if you are earning a B+ (87%–89%) or better.
